

GLENDA PATTON
Los Angeles Chapter

Glenda became a member of ARCS in 1993 and began to serve on the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Founder Chapter immediately. For the last two years, she and Judith Butler co-chaired the annual Scholar Recognition Luncheon, which they feel is ARCS' premiere event each year.

She currently serves on the Board of Directors of Valley Cultural Center as Corporate Secretary, Vice President of Public Relations for the Los Angeles Chapter of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge where she is also a past president. She is a member of Canoga Park Presbyterian Church, Woodland Hills Woman's Club, Woodland Hills Republican Women Federated, Calabasas Historical Society, Woodland Hills-Tarzana Chamber of Commerce and Greater Los Angeles Women's Council of the Navy League.

Glenda has been the recipient of several awards over the years, which include Valley Cultural Foundation's Picasso Award (1991), Volunteer of the Year from the National Society of Fund Raising Executives (2000), Valley Cultural Center's Recognition of Outstanding Contributions and Dedicated Services (1996-2002) and Valley Cultural Center's prestigious Golden Horn Award (2009).

Glenda was born "deep in the heart of Texas" and came to the Southern California to continue her education. She and her husband, Pat, have been married for 50 years. They enjoy traveling, mostly to tropical places. For the past several years she has been semi-retired, doing personal management for a few select clients but devoting most of her time and energy to non-profit organizations supporting youth and educational programs for young people who will become the future leaders, doctors and scientists of this great country of ours.

Peggy Moorhouse
Northern California

Peggy has been an active member of ARCS since joining in 2005. She has served on the Allocations, Nominating and Development committees and as VP Development for the past two years. During her four years on Development, Peggy raised our chapter's development effort to a new level of professionalism. In 2006, she introduced the use of a research database which matched the mission of ARCS with private foundation and corporate giving programs. Three years later, she introduced the same research tool to National while serving as the National Co-VP of Development. In the 2006-2007 fiscal year she spearheaded fundraising efforts which resulted in a total of $194,300 being raised from foundations, the chapter's largest total donation amount to date and an amount almost $35,000 over budget!

In addition to ARCS, Peggy has always been active in the community. In past years, she took leadership roles as President of the Board of Belvedere Nursery School and chairman of Marin Country Day School's "Book Fair" fundraiser. She has served on the Boards of the San Francisco Junior League, Edgewood Auxiliary, Raccoons (fundraising arm for Marin General Hospital), and the Women's Board of California Pacific Medical Center Foundation, where she was chairman of the San Francisco Debutante Ball. Currently, she is involved with the Belvedere-Tiburon Library Foundation and the Belvedere-Tiburon Auxiliary of San Francisco Fine Arts Museums.

Peggy grew up in Philadelphia and has lived in Tiburon since 1973, spending summers in Bay Head on the Jersey Shore. She married her college sweetheart 46 years ago in May. She has two married daughters and two grandchildren. Her other interests include travel, anything Italian, crossword puzzles, dominoes, gardening, and swimming and boating with family and friends at the Shore.

Diane Alexander
Portland Chapter

Diane is a charter member who took a leadership role right from the start—she co-chaired the Membership Committee, and was instrumental in seeking to strategically increase our membership. Diane was enthusiastically involved in the organization of the fall Scholar Picnic so that scholars and donors could meet one another prior to the Scholar Awards Luncheon in October.

Diane has chaired University Relations for the past three years. She originated the idea of our "Celebrate the Scholars" event each year in May, to honor those scholars completing their funding, encouraging them to keep in touch with ARCS. She researched, organized, and invited scholars, donors, and advisors to this event to be recognized and awarded an ARCS paperweight, engraved with their name.

She went on to research departments and programs at Oregon State University to include two schools and one department at the College of Engineering as recipient areas for Scholar Awards. Along the way, she made friends with many Oregon State University leaders, and has kept them informed of ARCS Foundation business.

Her curiosity, innovation and passion led her to research ARCS alums in the Portland/Vancouver area, organizing an event for local ARCS alums and inviting them to a brunch, held this year for the first time, so that we can get to know them and reconnect with them.

Diane is creative, hard-working, intelligent, friendly, and follows through on all projects she undertakes. She is always thinking about ways to improve our chapter and the relationships between members, universities, scholars and alumni. Her warm smile and easy-going manner make her a delight to work with, a privilege to know, and a true asset to our chapter.

Diana Casey
Orange County Chapter

Diana was raised in Athens, Greece. She has been educated and has degrees from the University of Athens; Sorbonne, France; Cambridge University, England; Suffolk University, England; Radcliff and Harvard in Boston.

She married Dr. David Casey while she was in medical school in Boston. They moved to Orange County, California when David finished medical school. They currently reside in Huntington Harbor, California and have four children and seven grandchildren.

Diane has been a member of ARCS since 2003. She has co-chaired the Fund Development committee for two years, served as co chair of the membership committee, done Fund Development for another year and co chaired the Scholar Awards Dinner.

She belongs to numerous organizations, and fund raises for all of them. Besides fundraising for good causes she enjoys boating, tennis, visual arts and walking.

Diana has been a wonderful contributor to ARCS serving as chair of committees in her short time here. She will do what is requested no matter what the job.

Jeanette Foushee
San Diego Chapter

Jeanette is known as a gentle, caring individual with a great sense of humor. She joined ARCS in 1988 and has served on and chaired many committees. She has been University Relations Vice President, Scientist of the Year Dinner Chair, Director of Member Giving, Corresponding Secretary, Parliamentarian and is a past President.

She attended San Diego State University. She was honored as a Woman of Dedication in 1986; was President of the Medical Auxiliary in 1983; was President of Assistance League of Greater San Diego in 1978; has been a docent at the San Diego Museum of Art; served on the County Grand Jury for one year; and was a Deacon at the La Jolla Presbyterian Church for three years.

Jeanette is an avid bridge player and was, in the past, a skier. Her claim to fame is "no broken bones" before she retired. Bridge is now her passion, and she is an excellent player. She is a major Chargers fan, and thinks the best part of the day is the tailgating. She is also an enthusiastic traveler. Her husband, Bobby, commented on her ability to lead one through the subway systems of Paris and New York City - especially the subway station downstairs at Bloomingdale's!

In addition, she is also pretty darn good at analyzing a company for investment purposes. She is still very involved, currently serving as our Parliamentarian and Chair of Member Giving.

The ARCS Light Award

This distinctive honor is awarded annually by each chapter to a member who has given the highest quality of service to the chapter on a long-term basis. The recipients are selected according to the following criteria:

- Someone who has served on various chapter committees and on the Board of Directors;
- Someone who has the respect of the chapter;
- Someone who has demonstrated a willingness to serve the organization.

We congratulate this year's recipients and thank them for their dedicated service to ARCS.

ARCS LIGHTS
WASHINGTON, D.C.
2010

Janie Wilson Atlanta Chapter

The Atlanta Chapter is proud to have Immediate Past National President Janie Wilson as our 2010 ARCS Light. She joined ARCS in 1998 and was Chapter President from 2002 to 2004. She has been an officer on the National Board since 2004, including VP New Chapter Development and VP

Chapter Relations. She served as the National President from 2007 to 2009 during which time our new tagline and logo were adopted. Janie has also been committed to the Atlanta community. She has held leadership posts with Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, including Auxiliary President, Board of Trustees member and Chairman of the Festival of Trees. She has held positions with the Junior League of Atlanta, Wesley Woods Geriatric Center at Emory University and currently chairs the Wesley Woods Towers Advisory Board. She also chairs the Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly Authority of Fulton County.

Janie is a Magna Cum Laude, Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Vanderbilt University in Mathematics. Professionally, she has taught and tutored high school math, worked as a publicist and free-lance writer, is an interior designer and antiques dealer, and has been an exercise instructor for 30 years. She is married to Atlanta attorney Chuck Wilson, and they have two grown children. Charles is an Air Force fighter pilot, and Laura is a geologist/paleontologist who is a doctoral candidate at the University of Colorado, Boulder.

Janie is an avid tennis player. She and Chuck love to hike, hunt, garden and drive their vintage Corvettes.

Evelyn Soucek Metropolitan Washington Chapter

Evelyn Soucek has been an active, enthusiastic member of the Metropolitan Washington Chapter since she joined ARCS in 1990. She has served in Board positions and on committees too numerous to count. Evelyn is an extraordinary hostess and her bright smile and sparkling eyes have greeted members and guests at Galas, Scholar Awards and many other events over the years.

Evelyn came to ARCS with a wealth of talents honed as a military wife. While teaching school in Japan, 56 years ago, Evelyn met and married a young army aviator who was destined to become a general. During 25 years of military life Evelyn and Leo raised three children in many exciting parts of the world: Iran, Germany, the Philippines and even Hawaii. During these years Evelyn gladly assumed her role on numerous boards such as the Red Cross. Her gentle nature enabled her to provide comfort and advice to military wives for many years.

Evelyn is an amazing diplomat and applies many of the same talents that make her a fantastic Bridge player to ARCS. She is a dedicated and very capable member and has won the respect and admiration of all our members. Evelyn's one wish is that all members should be required to visit the universities and meet our scholars.

Shirley Berk Lubbock Chapter

Shirley distinguished herself right away as a dedicated and effective member of ARCS. Originally from Johnson City, Tennessee, she moved to Lubbock in 2006 when her husband, Steve, assumed the position of Dean of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine. Shirley obtained both her BS and MS degrees in Microbiology from East Tennessee State University. She has worked as research coordinator and instructor in both the Departments of Pathology and Internal Medicine at ETSU Quillen College of Medicine and is the co-author of 28 scientific publications. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society and has served a term as State President for the Tennessee Society for Clinical Microbiology.

Shirley has a history of community volunteerism and service. She was an active member of the PTA in Johnson City and served on the Board of Education as Vice-Chair. In Lubbock, she dedicates her time to serving the community through various organizations including the county medical society, the Texas Tech Chancellor's Council and ARCS. She joined us in 2006. Just 2 years later, she accepted the position of recording secretary and opened her home to host all the Board meetings. In addition, Shirley enthusiastically supports our other activities and events. She brings fresh ideas to our operations and sees projects through from inception to completion.

In only a few years, Shirley has endeared herself to the members of our chapter. For her generosity, effectiveness, initiative and hard work on our behalf, the Lubbock Chapter of ARCS is proud to choose Shirley Berk as our 2010 ARCS Light.

Cecile M. Springer Pittsburgh Chapter

Cecile is a charter member of the Pittsburgh Chapter. She has been an active, enthusiastic member and has served on the Board as Nominating Chair, Planning and Evaluation Chair, Chapter Vice President, and University Relations Chair.

Cecile is President of Springer Associates, an innovative organization that provides comprehensive, cost-effective consulting services to corporate and philanthropic programs in institutional development. Early in her career, she was a research chemist for Bristol Myers Laboratory and for Schering Pharmaceuticals.

Over her career, Cecile has devoted many hours to civic and community involvement, some of which include: Chair, Women and Girls Foundation of SW Pennsylvania; Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Museum of Natural History; the Pittsburgh Dance Council; the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania; and the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh. Recently, she was Co-Chair of the Race and Reconciliation Dialogue Group, St. Paul Cathedral.

Cecile has received many awards: Public Citizen of the Year by the SW PA Division, National Association of Social Workers; Distinguished Daughter of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; Professional Excellence award from the Hispanic Society of Engineers and Scientists; YWCA Tribute to Women in Business and Industry Honoree; Carlow University Woman of Spirit; University of Pittsburgh Legacy Laureate; New Pittsburgh Courier Woman of Excellence.

Cecile holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Manhattanville College, a master's in chemistry from Wellesley College, and a master's degree in Urban and Regional Planning from the University of Pittsburgh.

Anne Zubko Seattle Chapter

Anne Zubko joined the Seattle Chapter of ARCS in 2003 and has been an active member ever since. Anne has served in many capacities, including Auction Co-Chair, Vice President of Communications and Corporate Secretary, Vice President of Nominations and Vice President of Development. She currently serves on the Nominating Committee and is in charge of corporate development and underwriting.

These are the formal positions Anne has held. In addition to being a leader, she is also the first to step up and take on all those little mundane jobs that add up to making a chapter strong and vital, such as endless proofreading, stuffing envelopes, filling a table at the Annual Awards Luncheon and writing personal thank-you letters. Woody Allen has said that "80 percent of success is just showing up." Well, Anne has shown up often and represents the heart and soul of our chapter.

Ruth Anne Unik Chicago Chapter

Born and raised in Illinois, Ruth Anne has been interested in science her whole life, winning awards in both science and the arts while in school. She founded and was the first President of the Council of Naperville Garden Clubs, was appointed by the Mayor to serve on the City of Naperville seven-person civic committee

"Goals for Naperville," and volunteered at a local hospital, becoming president of the Auxiliary. In 2007 she was honored by MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Illinois, with their Community Service Alumnae of the Year Award.

Upon joining ARCS, Ruth Anne immediately asked to serve on committees and began with the annual Scholarship Luncheon, college relations, fund-raising benefits, and golf outings. She has been Treasurer and Newsletter Editor, jobs which allowed her to remain active in ARCS while being elected State Chairman of the Illinois Hospital Association Constituency on Volunteers in 2005-2006. She currently serves on the ARCS Board as Membership Director.

Ruth Anne says that, "Raising scholarship funds, and being acquainted, even briefly, with the scholars that the Chicago Chapter has sponsored has been a wonderful experience. My sixteen years of ARCS membership and service have been very life-enriching. I wish to thank the members of the ARCS Chicago Chapter for electing me to this great honor."

Carol Craig Phoenix Chapter

Carol's 25 years of service and inspiration includes terms as recording secretary, parliamentarian, chairmanship of hospitality, printing, newsletter, and many fundraising committees. She was our first Fall Fundraiser Chair and was Chair of our Annual Awards Dinner three times.

Carol was born in the Dayton, Ohio area and majored in Interior Design at Ohio State. Her college days were interrupted by a handsome and charming West Point Cadet, Malcolm Craig. They were married and started a life that has taken them around the globe. She has met many interesting people including Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip as well as hosting President and Mrs. Reagan at Scottsdale Christian Academy.

Carol has volunteered wherever she was living at the time. In Japan she taught enlisted personnel math and English to help them earn their GED's. She worked with the Red Cross and even taught girl's cheerleading for the Army teams. In Phoenix she works with the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority chapter and has taught Sunday school for 27 years. She has been a caregiver for five family members before they passed away. Carol and Mal have been married for 57 years; have five wonderful children and three terrific granddaughters.

In closing, Carol would like to thank ARCS for this honor and says that she is proud to serve in such a great organization. We enjoy the energy and enthusiasm she brings to our Chapter and are proud to have her as our ARCS Light.

Lyda Ludeman Colorado Chapter

Following a successful career, Lyda Ludeman joined the Colorado Chapter in 2004, bringing with her a multitude of talents and strong commitment to ARCS and its mission. From her graceful leadership style to her outstanding organization and computer skills, she has contributed immensely to the strength and operational efficiencies of the Colorado Chapter. Lyda has been a member of the board since 2004, and is currently serving as VP of Operations and Immediate Past President. She is a member of the Allocations, Bylaws, University Relations, Scholar Luncheon, Gala and Fund Development committees. Over the past three years she has compiled the Chapter Procedures Manual, which she admits is "a permanent work in progress."

Following graduation from Bucknell University, Lyda spent a year in New York City working for Bristol Myers International. A ski trip to Colorado convinced her to move to Denver where she joined IBM as a systems engineer, later specializing in computer applications for the medical industry. Her IBM career took her to Atlanta, Dallas, and back to Denver.

Lyda enjoys working on her house and garden. She has just completed a studio where she plans to get back to sculpture and pottery. In addition, Lyda enjoys traveling, photography, Italian Renaissance Art, cooking, and genealogy, and of course, computers.

She believes that "ARCS has been a great fit for me. . . I enjoy access to the universities and the wonderful field trips we have. Even more, I enjoy our relationships with the scholars who are truly deserving of our support."
